

A GORGEOUS WEDDING.

The Marriage of the Duke of Hesse and Princess Victoria Melita.

IMPERIAL AND ROYAL FAMILIES

Of Europe Nearly All Represented.

Queen Victoria the Central Figure at the Marriage of Two of Her Grandchildren—A Brilliant Assemblage and an Imposable Scene—The City of Coburg Elaborately Decorated—The Ceremony Performed Without a Dynamite Bomb Being Thrown.

Coburg, April 19.—The weather was splendid to-day for the royal wedding. The city was packed with royal and imperial guests, foreign visitors and German sight-seers. Every building was decorated in some manner, even the most modest cottages having at least some slight display of bunting to the breeze, while the important thoroughfares and prominent buildings were buried beneath decorations of all descriptions and colors. At first the sky was overcast, but early in the day had cleared to a beautiful blue, and the sun beamed gloriously on this temporary headquarters of the representatives of nearly all the imperial and royal families of Europe. The first dragoon regiment band filled the air at short intervals with delightful music, playing in front of the Edinburg palace. The Schloss Platz and the terraces overlooking the park were so thronged that the police were compelled to drive persons away in order to prevent dangerous crushes.

According to the "ceremonial" decided upon by Queen Victoria, (all arrangements having been submitted to her in Florence,) the marriage was to take place at noon precisely in the private chapel of the Ducal Schloss, with full state in the Lutheran style.

Following German precedents, there were no bridesmaids, but the bride was supported by her younger sisters. The private chapel of the Schloss was thoroughly redecorated for the occasion, and as the wedding took place on prime-time day princesses entered largely into the interior decoration, these flowers having been sent from England for the occasion. Queen Victoria was accompanied by the duke of the Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, (the duke of Edinburgh; father of the bride,) and was escorted to an arm chair in the front row of the distinguished guests, and next to Emperor William of Germany, by whose side was the duchess of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, (the Grand Duchess Marie, of Russia, sister of the czar.)

There was some delay in the proceedings and consequently it was 12:30 p. m. before the ceremony commenced, but it was a most brilliant and impressive function. In the wedding procession Emperor William escorted the duchess of Coburg, and ex-Empress Frederick followed alone. The prince of Wales and the czarowitz came next, walking together. The bridegroom entered with his supporters, Prince Henry of Hesse, and his brother-in-law, Prince Henry of Prussia. The bride came in last, supported by her father and brother, and accompanied by her sisters. Through the chapel windows the soft light shone upon this distinguished assemblage, which was bright with jewels, the ladies' bright dresses contrasting with the uniforms of the male portion of the guests, and all this with the elaborate floral decorations, the grandeur of the old chapel and the natural solemnity of the surroundings, formed a magnificent tout ensemble which has not often been equalled of recent years in any country in the world.

The general superintendent of the Lutheran church, Pastor Mueller, officiated, and was assisted by the court chaplain of the grand duchy of Hesse and by five local clergymen. After the address had been delivered the bride and bridegroom plighted their troth and the wedding rings were exchanged. Then came one benediction, after which Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" was grandly played and the ceremony was at an end.

The newly married couple afterwards kissed their relatives in turn and the procession was reformed and left the chapel at 1 o'clock, amid the booming of cannon and joyful ringing of all the church bells within many miles of the ducal chapel.

The whole party, shortly after leaving the chapel, entered the Riesendall, where breakfast was served. An especially hearty cheer was raised by the crowds on the plaza as the newly married couple and the duke and duchess of Coburg crossed the square to the palace.

A LIBERTY TREE

Planted in Soil Gathered in Historic Spots Throughout the Country.

San Francisco, April 19.—Unusual ceremonies were performed in Golden Gate park this afternoon when Sequoia chapter of the California lodge of the Daughters of the American Revolution planted a "liberty tree" in historic soil that the women have been gathering for six months past. To-day being the anniversary of the battle of Lexington, it was chosen for the planting, and the first trowel full of earth used was from the memorable battle ground. The second installment of dirt is from the tomb at Mt. Vernon, where George and Martha Washington were first buried. The third trowel full of earth is from the grave of Marquis de Lafayette, from the Pichus, Paris, and was disposed of by M. L. Delaand, consul general of France, who represented the French nation by an address.

For six months the daughters of the local branch of the society have been in correspondence with the people living near the great battle fields of the revolution and the colonial church yards asking for soil. Package after package has been received from the New England and Middle states, and at one time the entire cellar floor of Mrs. Hubbard on Pierce street, was covered with boxes and packages of earth from historic spots. The liberty tree to be planted to-day will grow in earth from the graves of ex-Presidents, statesmen, warriors, patriots, and from battle fields and spots of historic renown throughout the land.

WHITE'S POSITION.

The California Senator States Why He Favors the Chinese Treaty.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 19.—Comment has been caused by the announcement that Senator White, of California, favors the new Chinese treaty. To the Associated Press the senator has given for the first time the reasons for his attitude on this subject. "The treaty recognizes," he says, "the validity of the treaty and the Chinese government will object to their enforcement. There is a substantial gain, because the treaty law by a more majority, and the justices whose votes determined the case have decided that all recognize the uncertainty of a second presentation of that tribunal.

The provision whereby the United States agrees to furnish annually to China the names of our citizens, including missionaries who reside there, is in effect a guarantee by the Chinese empire that the Americans will not be disturbed. Missionaries need not have any solicitude hereafter. While the Chinese government is not friendly to American residents, the effect of the provision is to make it liable pecuniarily and otherwise for injuries to our people there. The Chinese do not enjoy paying damages.

As to the criticism against the privilege to Chinese laborers having a wife, child or parent in the United States, property or debts, he said: "The provision only applies to laborers who are registered. If we agree as in the treaty and the Chinese acts that they may remain permanently if they register, I see no objection to their temporary absence. I admit that a Chinaman will swear to anything, but in this case his voracity is passed upon by an American official."

WHAT MIGHT OCCUR

Should Senator Hill be Given the Vacant Place on the Finance Committee.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—An interesting suggestion is made in connection with the possibility of the selection of Senator Hill as a member of the senate committee on finance to succeed the late Senator Vance, to the effect that such action might lead to an effort to have the tariff bill recommitted to the finance committee. Senator Hill is believed to be favorable to this course, and the Republican senators entertained the idea of such recommitment when the Democratic majority of the committee refused to grant hearings. This they abandoned because they thought that a recommitment would mean the subsequent report of the bill with material amendments.

With Senator Hill as a member of the committee, dissatisfied with many features of the bill as he is known to be, and especially antagonistic to income tax, there would be good reason for hoping on the part of those who agree with him that the bill would be materially amended if it should again go to the committee. If he should stand with the Republicans of the committee and they should vote solidly, any change desired by them could be effected. There is a possibility, however, that the vacancy in the committee will not be speedily filled, and it is believed that the Democratic members of the committee will ask that Senator Mills be given the place. The committee will not of course, have the naming of the additional member, but its recommendation would naturally have influence with the Democratic caucus.

LORD SALISBURY

Defies the Government to Submit the Home Rule Question to the Country.

LONDON, April 19.—An enormous audience, which included very many members of the aristocracy, greeted Lord Salisbury, the Conservative leader, when he addressed the Primrose League this afternoon at Covent Garden theatre. During the course of his remarks Lord Salisbury said that they were in a position which was critical for the endurance of the institutions which it was the special mission of the league to sustain. If the government believes that the rejection of home rule by the house of lords unjustly interprets the wishes of the people it is then their duty to make the earliest appeal to the country. He did not say that the government was bound to dissolve upon every occasion of difference between the two houses; but when the event which caused the difference of opinion was of a momentous character and affecting the relations between the islands which had subsisted for seven centuries, they had no right to decide not to appeal to the country.

Lord Salisbury then denounced the register bill, which he said would disfranchise thousands and enfranchise many who were mere vagrants.

DECLARED UNCONSTITUTIONAL

The South Carolina Supreme Court Decides Against the Tillman Liquor Law.

COLUMBIA, S. C., April 19.—The Tillman state dispensary liquor law has been declared unconstitutional by the supreme court of South Carolina, two justices concurring and one (Tillmanite) member of the supreme bench dissenting from the opinion.

The decision was rendered by Chief Justice McIver, Justice McGowan assenting. Justice Pope (the Tillman justice) dissents. The decision was rendered in a composite case composed of a case originating in Darlington and appealed to the supreme court by the state authorities, and of several minor cases likewise appealed by the state. The ground on which the law is declared unconstitutional is that it creates a monopoly for the state. Justice McIver's decision declared the law unconstitutional in nearly every respect and practically holds that it cannot be upheld on any vital point.

The profit to the state for the future is declared vicious.

Gov. Tillman says he is not talking; that it is time only for action.

HARRISON COUNTY

In Good Shape Politically—Will Do Herself Proud This Year—Men Who are Favorites.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.
CLARKSBURG, W. VA., April 19.—Political matters are beginning to warm up in this end of the district and the attendance of a great many persons, many of whom are prominently known in business and politics, at the federal court, which is now in session, has a tendency to boom affairs along that line. George Wesley Atkinson has as many friends here as ever and in the event of his nomination they will rally round him to a man and elect him to the place now occupied by Mr. Pendleton. Captain Dwyer's strength in the county is also very great, and if he should be the nominee he will receive the hearty support of all Republicans here.

The Clarksburg News, the Democratic organ of this county, has had Pendleton on the spit and roasting ever since the wrong man got the postoffice, and as a result Harrison is going to do better this year than ever, and by the way the noble way she did in 1892 was due to a great extent to the push and vim of Editor Reed of the Telegram. In 1892 the Republican party made a clean sweep in this senatorial district for the first time since the war. The party has appreciated Mr. Reed's efforts and now propose to elect him to the senate. He is being boomed all over the district and in fact is spoken of over the state as the logical candidate. Born within fifteen miles of Clarksburg he has always been a party hustler and has never received any recognition in the way of office, although two years ago he was prominently mentioned for the senate, but would not allow his name to go before the convention. I understand that Mr. Reed is in the race and I predict that he is in to win.

It is now announced on good authority that Maj. A. C. Moore, of this city, has declared himself in the contest for Congress and may possibly play an important part in that contest. He is also mentioned for legislature, with Mr. Harvey W. Harmer, a rising young attorney of this city. Judge Maxwell's friends are getting jubilant over his prospects. They expect, if the legislature is Republican, that he will stand a chance to succeed Mr. Camden in the United States senate.

FARNHAM POST G. A. R.

Recommended For Reinstatement by the New York Department Council.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 19.—The state G. A. R. department, through its council of administration, has practically decided to reinstate Farnham Post G. A. R., of New York city, which was expelled from the order last winter, all that is necessary to effect the reinstatement being the sanction and confirmation of the determination of the state council by the national G. A. R. council of administration.

At the meeting at which action was taken there appeared a large delegation representing the post. John J. Finn and Captain Brogan made appeals for the reinstatement. They showed that the post had been perpetuated since its expulsion and since that time has given away $1,630 in charity and done other works of mercy.

The post was expelled last winter for passing resolutions on the pension question condemning the position taken by the National G. A. R. Encampment and circulating the resolutions throughout the United States.

Breathing Poison.

You can't draw a breath without inhaling poison, if you sojourn in a malarious locality during the unhealthy seasons. The dangers of malarial stricken regions testify that the only certain safeguard against the poisonous vapor and its products, chills and fever, remittent fever, spleen enlargement, etc., is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which remedies, also, constipation, biliousness, dyspepsia and rheumatism.

It Is Good.

The more Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used the better it is liked. We know of no other remedy that always gives satisfaction. It is good when you first catch cold. It is good when your cough is seated and your lungs are sore. It is good in any kind of a cough. We have sold twenty-five dozen of it and every bottle has given satisfaction.—Stedman & Friedman, druggists, Minnesota Lake, Minn.
